MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL

Dear KJS Families,

It has been an absolutely fantastic week at KJS!

Earlier this week, our youngest learners took to the field for their Year 1 and Year 2 Family Fun Day. It was a joy to watch the pure excitement and teamwork on display. A huge thank you to the many parents who joined us, seeing so many of you cheering from the sidelines truly makes these events special.

On Wednesday, our Year 3 students transformed their part of the school into a professional gallery for their Art Exhibition. I was personally blown away by the sheer variety and quality of the work on display. Our young artists explored a range of mediums, including sculpture, photography, painting, sketching, and more. The creativity and thought behind each piece were remarkable, and we are so proud of our Year 3 students for such an inspiring showcase.

Our Chinese Battle of the Books (BOB) team represented KJS in the Hong Kong-wide competition this week and performed brilliantly. In a field of incredibly tough competition, our team secured third place overall. This is a fantastic achievement that reflects their dedication, hard work, and passion for reading. Please join me in congratulating our BOB stars!

I hope you all have a wonderful, restful weekend with your families.

Mr MacGregor
Principal

Posties Success: Remy's Literary Roll Continues!

We are absolutely bursting with pride to share even more spectacular news! The literary magic at KJS continues as Remy Wong (6HB) has seen her work featured in SCMP Posties Issue #697 (March 9th, 2026). This marks an incredible achievement for Remy, as it is her second time being published in just three weeks!

A Surprising Path to Print

Remy shared that her journey to this week's page was a bit of a surprise. Interestingly, the piece published this week was actually the very first article she ever wrote, her second article simply happened to be printed first! Despite the twist in timing, Remy feels "very proud" that both of her initial submissions have now reached readers across Hong Kong.

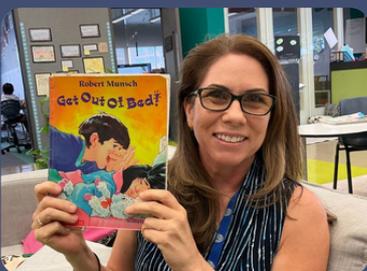

Remy's Sage Advice for Young Writers:

- Write What You Know: Focus on topics you know a lot about to help you feel more confident in your work.
- Be Unique: Try writing about things that are more "unusual than normal" to catch a reader's eye.
- Keep Going: Don't stop at one! Remy is already planning future articles, including a review of a "Bob Book" and a special farewell piece.

Staff Book Recommendation of the Week

This week's recommendation comes from
Mrs. Sheppard (4VS)

Book: Get Out of Bed
by Robert Munsch

Mrs. Sheppard says: I love the book "Get Out of Bed" by Robert Munsch because it is very silly, funny and has great illustrations.

The story is about a determined little girl who just can't wake up in the morning. Robert Munsch uses fun, repetitive language to encourage kids to read along. Be prepared to laugh out loud when reading this book!!

Featured Story: "Catherine's Puppies"

In her latest published article, Remy takes us on a visit to an animal shelter in Sai Kung. She shares her discovery of how the center helps dogs find homes and offers a thoughtful lesson on why newborn puppies shouldn't be touched until they are vaccinated. While she couldn't pet the newborns, Remy found the experience "cosy" and full of new learning.

Congratulations, Remy! Your dedication to storytelling reminds us all that with a bit of passion and persistence, your voice can truly make an impact.
